

RICHEST OF THE VAUDEVILLE STAGE TO SHINE TONIGHT.

Programme That Makes a New Standard.

The apotheosis of vaudeville. That is the entertainment to be given this evening at Hammerstein's magnificent Olympia Roof Garden. The collection of stars makes a firmament of the big stage. Nineteen high-class acts by the principal performers of the country. Think of that! This entertainment will be historical in stageland, a standard by which to measure great performances.

Perhaps these predictions sound like exaltation. If you think so, read over the programme and then tax your memory to an equal in all your experience. Every other and Fields will appear. Every knows that they are the funniest German comedians on the stage. One of their sketches is called "The Pool Table and the Schuetzenfester." These comedians have prepared a revised edition of humorous piece, and will present it tonight for the first time. This amusement alone would be sufficient for a night on the poster of any theatre.

But every part of the programme is worthy of big type—best kind of type.

First will perform his great leggedomain. This is the nephew of Hermann the Great, and, with him, he expects to take the place of his uncle as the great prestidigitator of his time. A chance for comparison of his skill with the cleverness of his instructor will be given by his appearance.

Another brilliant, dashing Marie Dressler—she another of the stars of the night. In the "Vaudevilles" she made such a hit that for her number she has been asked to repeat this sketch, and she has accepted the request.

It will not be necessary to introduce Ann Mack, the star of "Myles Aroon." Her songs and her acts have made him famous. Now Mr. Mack says that he is to-night to sing a new song, the title of which is "The Young Man who will try to do it and the young ladies will try to do it out" on the piano.

There will be other new songs. Bonnie Thornton will sing one of them, written this occasion by James Thornton, the man who wrote "The Same Old Smile," "The Benches in the Park," "The Cats of Cairo," "The Captain Still Pursued Her," and a hundred other familiar ditties.

Thornton is called "the man who set world singing." Besides the new songs he has composed for his little wife, as a new one for himself to sing. He is the man who juggles with any-

TO NIGHT AT HAMMERSTEIN'S
OLYMPIA
ROOF GARDEN

thing, from cannon balls to pieces of tissue paper. He will juggle to-night with all kinds of freak articles, for he has a pride in maintaining his position as "the greatest juggler in the world," and the audience that will assemble to-night will be worth pleasing.

Some new funny stories are expected from Richard Carroll, the man whose monologues make audiences scream with laughter.

Gus Williams, the German comedian and eccentric pianist, has promised a novelty.

THE JOURNAL JUNIOR REPUBLIC.

It is a little community of poor boys who have gone out into the country to get an honest living. It is situated on a farm half way between New City and Haverstraw, in Rockland County. There are 100 citizens in the Republic. They are under seventeen years of age. They govern themselves, elect their President, Legislature and Senate, make their own laws and enforce them. The citizens are policemen, judges, merchants, bakers, tailors, carpenters and farmers. They are paid for their work in Junior Republic coin. All communications regarding the Republic should be addressed to Journal Junior Republic, The Journal, New York.

If it can be anything funnier than the stories he has told, the marvellous piano solos he has played, it is well, worthy of the genius of Gus Williams, for there is none with whom to compare him.

An interesting feature of the programme will be the exposition of the remarkable sagacity of Herr Grahl's animals, the baboon and the donkey. The donkey is full of tricks, and the baboon's versatility of intelligence makes one expect to hear him speak.

Haines and Pettigill are comedians in burnt cork. Their sketch, illustrating the humorous side of betting on the races in a pool room, is a favorite act, and they will give it for the benefit performance this evening.

Fatalis is an equilibrist, and he is on the programme this evening for his best act. The English singers and dancers, the three Dunbar Sisters, have been compared to the Barrison Sisters, but this comparison is a bit unjust, for they give a thoroughly original performance, as may be seen from their "return" this evening at Hammerstein's.

A delightful act is the imitation of the calls of animals by Flukosky. Flukosky, who mimics, who makes a great deal out of material that would be small if entrusted to one less competent.

Anna Ford applies her talents to the serio-comic style. In her catching way she will introduce something new this evening. The Gorch Sisters are favorite singers, and they intend, if possible, to add to their popularity by their act at the benefit.

The Romulo Brothers, the head to head balance act, the best of the best, the unusual in gymnastics. The barrel act of the Deonzo is a funny as well as a daring exhibition. Alburus and Bartram do a club swinging performance in a new and interesting way.

In all, nineteen acts at this benefit. Benefit! Yes, the benefit of the poor boys who have gone out into the country to earn an honest living; the boys who are learning of government and of self-government up at the Journal Junior Republic. The benefit will be applied to the aid of this little community.

Oscar Hammerstein, the generous proprietor of the Olympia, is now on the steamship New York, bound for these shores, but he has not forgotten the Junior Republic. Before he left London he sent a cablegram to his son here to "do something, something big, for the Journal Junior Republic fund." Hammerstein was once a poor boy himself. Perhaps that is one reason that he is so good to poor boys, now that he has become a great manager.

KEAR WAS MISTAKEN.
Thought Mrs. Weitlauf Was the Bigamist, but a Jury Took a Different View of It.

Felix Winkler was convicted yesterday Recorder Goff for marrying a woman who was already provided with a husband. As a result of the conviction, he is liable to spend five years in prison.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

Winkler's case possesses the elements of a comedy. At a picnic of the Gersting society of which he is a member he met Mrs. May Weitlauf. She is a blonde, with a fondness for frankforters and song. She was the wife of Jacob Weitlauf, a grocer, at Fifty-third and Eighth avenue. She engaged to marry Winkler, a friend of her husband's, and they were married.

EXPORT RECORD BROKEN.
The Statistics for the Last Fiscal Year Reveal a Remarkable Trade Achievement.

Washington, July 15.—The statement of the exports and imports of the United States issued to-day by the Bureau of Statistics makes a remarkable showing. Never before in the history of the country have the exports of merchandise, which include practically all exports except gold and silver, reached so high a figure as during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1897, nor has the excess of exports over imports ever been so large.

The only time these figures were approached was in 1892, when the United States was making heavy shipments of grain to feed Europe, suffering from a series of deficient harvests. The statement for 1897, with comparisons, is as follows:

Exports of domestic merchandise, $1,032,908,880; increase over 1896, about $170,000,000.

Total exports of domestic and foreign merchandise, $1,032,908,880, as compared with $862,904,338 for 1896. Total imports of merchandise, $764,373,905, of which $381,352,005 was free of duty. The total imports were about $13,500,000 less than last year, and the excess of exports over imports for the year was $287,033,186. This is an excess of about $185,000,000 over last year and an excess of about $23,000,000 over any previous year.

The export of gold, including ores, amounted to $40,300,787, as compared with $12,400,047 for 1896. The imports of gold amounted to $85,013,570, an increase of about $5,000,000 over 1896. The exports of silver during 1897 amounted to $61,940,658, and the imports $30,533,227. Never before has the silver movement, both export and import, reached so high a figure.

LIKELY A BOGUS GRACE.
Mrs. Stevenson Receives an Unconvincing Note Purporting to Be from Her Daughter in East St. Louis.

Boston, Mass., July 15.—Mrs. Stevenson has received a letter from East St. Louis bearing date July 7, purporting to be signed by her missing daughter, Grace. Mrs. Stevenson is not inclined to place confidence in the communication, as the handwriting is unlike her daughter's, and the writer is evidently less educated than she.

Moreover, there is so much stress laid on the financial and of the affair as leads the family to suspect that some one is trying to palm herself off as the lost daughter. The person in whose care the reply is desired to be sent.

A cablegram this morning disposed of the theory that Grace had gone to Ireland.

ARMOUR'S $1,000,000 FIGHT.
Wants the Court of Appeals' Decision on His Oleomargarine Fine.

Little Falls, N. Y., July 15.—James Sheldon of Tracy, Boardman & Platt, of New York, appeared before Supreme Court Justice Harden in this city to-day and secured an order in the case of the people against Philip Armour.

Sheldon represented the defendant, who is anxious to carry the case to the Court of Appeals, it having been decided against him in the fourth department of the Appellate Court.

The action is to recover penalties amounting to $1,000,000 alleged to have been incurred under the oleomargarine law.

No News of Missing Mrs. Holst.
No trace has been discovered of Mrs. Adelaide Holst, who mysteriously disappeared from the corner of Seventeenth street and Third avenue last Friday night. Thorough search of the hospitals of this city, Brooklyn and Jersey City failed to produce information concerning her, and Ernest Holst, her husband, secure in the belief that she had no reason for suicide, declared she has been abducted and is being held against her will. He offers $100 reward for news of her.

HUNTED BOYS WITH GUNS.
The Youngsters Had Stolen a Boat from the Union Boat Club—The Search-Ing Party Stopped.

Twenty boys stole a rowboat from the Union Boat Club, on Harlem River, yesterday afternoon. They cut the rope and pulled away with their prize. They came in four boats.

Robert Mulhearn, janitor of the boat house, hurried to the Dauntless House, and borrowed a boat. Accompanied by the janitors of the Dauntless and Nonpareils and William McHugh, a real estate broker and a member of the Union, Mulhearn started after the thieves. The latter rowed over to Cedar Grove, where they were joined by about fifteen more boys. They pulled their boats on the beach and carried them half a mile from the river, where they hid them in a marsh.

When the boat club people landed the boys made an attack with stones. Real Estate Broker McHugh was struck on the head and right shoulder with a piece of broken brick. He received an ugly scalp wound and a badly bruised shoulder. Janitor Mulhearn was hit twice on the leg by stones and once on the right arm. The boat club men were driven back to the river. Not a policeman was in sight. They are seldom seen along the Harlem, and the boat club suffers for it.

An old rusty musket belonging to Captain John Canavan, of the Nonpareils, had been lying in the boat house for a year. The boys took it and a rusty brass cannon from the Union House, hoping to scare the boys. On the way back they met William Boland rowing in a single six. He told the party of another rusty gun that had been lying in the rafters of the Union House for years. With a rusty gun, a rusty musket and a dilapidated brass cannon, ten inches long, the party faced the juvenile river thieves. The youngsters couldn't be scared. They laughed at the guns and threw more stones, when a policeman arrived, ready to arrest the men with the artillery. But when the bluecoat narrowly escaped a big stone that flew by his head he changed his mind, and joined the chase.

All but two of the youngsters escaped. They are William Strikel, sixteen years old, of Fort Morris, and Joseph Gorman, fourteen years old, of Mount Hope. They were taken to Morrisania Court. Janitor Mulhearn refused to press a complaint, and the boys were allowed to go on the promise that they would return the boat. A policeman went with the boys and the boat was found.

AWAITS MRS. BRADBURY.
The Husband She Abandoned Refuses to Talk and Patronizes the Hotel Cafe Frequently.

Chicago, July 15.—Colonel John Bradbury, the Los Angeles (Cal.) millionaire, whose wife eloped with W. R. Ward, an Englishman, arrived in Chicago to-day and is at the Wellington.

Mrs. Bradbury and her mother are expected to arrive from the coast in the morning.

It is said that a meeting has been arranged between the couple, with a view of effecting a reconciliation. The explorer tries to reach the north pole with dogs and sledges.

Mrs. Peary, the wife of the Arctic explorer, left New York yesterday afternoon on the Providence line boat for Boston, where she will join her husband to-day. Mrs. Peary intended to take the 3 o'clock train for Belhaven, on the Sound, but missed it. Accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Moore and her little daughter, she drove to Portchester, where she persuaded the station agent to flag the Shore Line Express from Boston, which does not stop for passengers between New Haven and New York. The train was stopped, Mrs. Peary boarded it and arrived in New York in time to take the boat.

KANSAS WOMEN PROTEST.
Threaten Police Commissioners with Retirement if Their Sisters Have to Work on the Stone Pile.

Kansas City, Mo., July 15.—The orders of the Police Commissioners of this city that women prisoners must work on the stone pile with the men has not yet been put into effect. The Current Events Club, an organization of women, has expressed itself as immeasurably shocked, and has called an indignation meeting to protest against the "threatened disgrace and degradation of womanhood."

The members threaten that enforcement of the order means the retirement of the Police Commissioners from office at the first opportunity, and as women vote in Kansas municipal elections the threat may have the desired effect. Their principal objection to the rock-pile plan is that part compelling the women to work without skirts and to wear overalls instead. The police officials say that the first women prisoners whose fines are not paid will go to the rock pile.

STUMBLED OVER THE BODIES.
Found His Drunken Wife Had Killed All Her Children and Self.

London, July 15.—One of the most terrible domestic tragedies was discovered this morning. Emma Symonds, the wife of an engine fitter, cut the throats of her four young children and then her own.

As Symonds entered his bedroom this morning he stumbled over the bodies of two of his children lying dead upon the floor. Turning in horror toward the bed he saw his wife and two other children sitting bolt upright with their throats cut. Life was not then extinct, but it is not possible that any can survive.

CONFERREES NOT HAPPY.
They Split Again Over the Sugar Schedule and Are Now Further Apart Than Ever.

Washington, July 15.—The tariff conferees seem to be further apart than ever. The conference broke up in a disagreement over the sugar schedule at 6 o'clock and all the conferees came out of the Finance Committee room in a very ugly mood. They had but little to say to each other and the disagreement was evidently a bitter one.

To-night the conference is not in session. Seeing no chance ahead for an agreement the members of the conference think it is useless to waste time and hope that a night's rest may make the other side more reasonable.

The wool rates, as agreed on last night, stood all day and may stand permanently if the final split does not come on sugar. Silk was one of the subjects discussed and a compromise will be reached on the Senate amendments. It was not until late this afternoon that the sugar schedule was touched on with the hope that one side or the other might weaken. But there was no difference from the last vote.

EMMA EAMES NOT TO SUE.
Declares That Her Relations with Mr. Grau Are of the Most Cordial Description.

Boston, July 15.—A private letter from Miss Emma Eames Story, written in London July 2, has been received in this city, in which the prima donna explicitly denies the published statement that at the time of the burning of the Metropolitan Opera House she attempted to get damages from the firm of Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, and also the rumor that she contemplates suing Mr. Grau for non-fulfillment of the firm's contract with her.

Her relations with Mr. Grau, she asserts, are of the most cordial description. Mrs. Eames Story further says that the American public is not to hear her for two years.

AWAITS MRS. BRADBURY.
The Husband She Abandoned Refuses to Talk and Patronizes the Hotel Cafe Frequently.

Chicago, July 15.—Colonel John Bradbury, the Los Angeles (Cal.) millionaire, whose wife eloped with W. R. Ward, an Englishman, arrived in Chicago to-day and is at the Wellington.

Mrs. Bradbury and her mother are expected to arrive from the coast in the morning.

It is said that a meeting has been arranged between the couple, with a view of effecting a reconciliation. The explorer tries to reach the north pole with dogs and sledges.

Mrs. Peary, the wife of the Arctic explorer, left New York yesterday afternoon on the Providence line boat for Boston, where she will join her husband to-day. Mrs. Peary intended to take the 3 o'clock train for Belhaven, on the Sound, but missed it. Accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Moore and her little daughter, she drove to Portchester, where she persuaded the station agent to flag the Shore Line Express from Boston, which does not stop for passengers between New Haven and New York. The train was stopped, Mrs. Peary boarded it and arrived in New York in time to take the boat.

KANSAS WOMEN PROTEST.
Threaten Police Commissioners with Retirement if Their Sisters Have to Work on the Stone Pile.

Kansas City, Mo., July 15.—The orders of the Police Commissioners of this city that women prisoners must work on the stone pile with the men has not yet been put into effect. The Current Events Club, an organization of women, has expressed itself as immeasurably shocked, and has called an indignation meeting to protest against the "threatened disgrace and degradation of womanhood."

The members threaten that enforcement of the order means the retirement of the Police Commissioners from office at the first opportunity, and as women vote in Kansas municipal elections the threat may have the desired effect. Their principal objection to the rock-pile plan is that part compelling the women to work without skirts and to wear overalls instead. The police officials say that the first women prisoners whose fines are not paid will go to the rock pile.

STUMBLED OVER THE BODIES.
Found His Drunken Wife Had Killed All Her Children and Self.

London, July 15.—One of the most terrible domestic tragedies was discovered this morning. Emma Symonds, the wife of an engine fitter, cut the throats of her four young children and then her own.

FOUND A LOST MINE.
Prospectors Have Rediscovered the California Which Has Not Been Worked for Thirty Years.

Phoenix, Arizona, July 15.—John F. James and Henry Blake have returned from the desert region near the Mexican border, bringing a story of extreme suffering and of their success in the discovery of the California mine, one of the most famous of the lost mines of the West.

The mine lies eighty miles south of the Sentinel River, on the Southern Pacific, in a region that appears absolutely worthless. For ten days the men and their burros were compelled to live by drinking the bitter juice of the cactus. The men are terribly broken through their sufferings in the blazing desert.

They could stay at the mine only a short time, but brought back samples of gold speckled ore taken from the bottom of the shaft, where yet there are tools left by the miners of thirty years ago. They will outfit and return as soon as they regain strength.

"PEARY" PREPARING TO SAIL.
If the Hope Reaches Boston on Time He Will Get Away Saturday.

Boston, July 15.—Peary, the Arctic explorer, arrived in this city to-day, and will proceed at once with the preparations for his departure for Greenland, where he is to establish a base of supplies for a prospective trip to the north pole in 1899.

Peary states that he expects to have everything in readiness to leave this port on board the sealing steamer Hope next Saturday.

The Hope, however, has not yet arrived, and Peary cannot tell when she will reach this port. "As soon as the Hope gets here," he said, "I shall begin active preparations for departure. This will include getting the passengers aboard and shipping such supplies as will be needed."

The expedition will return in September. The primary object of this trip is to enable Peary to meet his Esquimaux and arrange with them for the settlement of a village at a point further north than any village now exists.

This village, he hopes, will be established at about 82 northern latitude, to serve as the base of supplies in 1899, and at which the Hope will be left while the explorer tries to reach the north pole with dogs and sledges.

Mrs. Peary, the wife of the Arctic explorer, left New York yesterday afternoon on the Providence line boat for Boston, where she will join her husband to-day. Mrs. Peary intended to take the 3 o'clock train for Belhaven, on the Sound, but missed it. Accompanied by Mrs. P. A. Moore and her little daughter, she drove to Portchester, where she persuaded the station agent to flag the Shore Line Express from Boston, which does not stop for passengers between New Haven and New York. The train was stopped, Mrs. Peary boarded it and arrived in New York in time to take the boat.

KANSAS WOMEN PROTEST.
Threaten Police Commissioners with Retirement if Their Sisters Have to Work on the Stone Pile.

Kansas City, Mo., July 15.—The orders of the Police Commissioners of this city that women prisoners must work on the stone pile with the men has not yet been put into effect. The Current Events Club, an organization of women, has expressed itself as immeasurably shocked, and has called an indignation meeting to protest against the "threatened disgrace and degradation of womanhood."

The members threaten that enforcement of the order means the retirement of the Police Commissioners from office at the first opportunity, and as women vote in Kansas municipal elections the threat may have the desired effect. Their principal objection to the rock-pile plan is that part compelling the women to work without skirts and to wear overalls instead. The police officials say that the first women prisoners whose fines are not paid will go to the rock pile.

STUMBLED OVER THE BODIES.
Found His Drunken Wife Had Killed All Her Children and Self.

London, July 15.—One of the most terrible domestic tragedies was discovered this morning. Emma Symonds, the wife of an engine fitter, cut the throats of her four young children and then her own.

As Symonds entered his bedroom this morning he stumbled over the bodies of two of his children lying dead upon the floor. Turning in horror toward the bed he saw his wife and two other children sitting bolt upright with their throats cut. Life was not then extinct, but it is not possible that any can survive.

THE PRODUCE MARKET.
Latest Quotations in Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Fruits, Poultry, Vegetables, Hay and Straw.

Butter.—Receipts were lighter yesterday, but more or less stock had accumulated, and the supply of all qualities was ample. Buyers took hold of strictly fancy creamery fairly well and the market for such was well-sustained on the basis of 15c. We quote: State, 1896, choice, 15c; do, state, 14c; do, thirds to seconds, 12 1/2c; do, state, extras, 15c; do, thirds, 12 1/2c; do, state, extras, 14c; do, thirds, 11 1/2c; do, state, extras, 13 1/2c; do, thirds, 11 1/2c; do, state, extras, 12 1/2c; do, thirds, 10 1/2c; do, state, extras, 11 1/2c; do, thirds, 10 1/2c; do, state, extras, 10 1/2c; do, thirds, 9 1/2c; do, state, extras, 9 1/2c; do, thirds, 8 1/2c; do, state, extras, 8 1/2c; do, thirds, 7 1/2c; do, state, extras, 7 1/2c; do, thirds, 6 1/2c; do, state, extras, 6 1/2c; do, thirds, 5 1/2c; do, state, extras, 5 1/2c; do, thirds, 4 1/2c; do, state, extras, 4 1/2c; do, thirds, 3 1/2c; do, state, extras, 3 1/2c; do, thirds, 2 1/2c; do, state, extras, 2 1/2c; do, thirds, 1 1/2c; do, state, extras, 1 1/2c; do, thirds, 1/2c; do, state, extras, 1/2c; do, thirds, 1/4c; do, state, extras, 1/4c; do, thirds, 1/8c; do, state, extras, 1/8c; do, thirds, 1/16c; do, state, extras, 1/16c; do, thirds, 1/32c; do, state, extras, 1/32c; do, thirds, 1/64c; do, state, extras, 1/64c; do, thirds, 1/128c; do, state, extras, 1/128c; do, thirds, 1/256c; do, state, extras, 1/256c; do, thirds, 1/512c; do, state, extras, 1/512c; do, thirds, 1/1024c; do, state, extras, 1/1024c; do, thirds, 1/2048c; do, state, extras, 1/2048c; do, thirds, 1/4096c; do, state, extras, 1/4096c; do, thirds, 1/8192c; do, state, extras, 1/8192c; do, thirds, 1/16384c; do, state, extras, 1/16384c; do, thirds, 1/32768c; do, state, extras, 1/32768c; do, thirds, 1/65536c; do, state, extras, 1/65536c; do, thirds, 1/131072c; do, state, extras, 1/131072c; do, thirds, 1/262144c; do, state, extras, 1/262144c; do, thirds, 1/524288c; do, state, extras, 1/524288c; do, thirds, 1/1048576c; do, state, extras, 1/1048576c; do, thirds, 1/2097152c; do, state, extras, 1/2097152c; do, thirds, 1/4194304c; do, state, extras, 1/4194304c; do, thirds, 1/8388608c; do, state, extras, 1/8388608c; do, thirds, 1/16777216c; do, state, extras, 1/16777216c; do, thirds, 1/33554432c; do, state, extras, 1/33554432c; do, thirds, 1/67108864c; do, state, extras, 1/67108864c; do, thirds, 1/134217728c; do, state, extras, 1/134217728c; do, thirds, 1/268435456c; do, state, extras, 1/268435456c; do, thirds, 1/536870912c; do, state, extras, 1/536870912c; do, thirds, 1/1073741824c; do, state, extras, 1/1073741824c; do, thirds, 1/2147483648c; do, state, extras, 1/2147483648c; do, thirds, 1/4294967296c; do, state, extras, 1/4294967296c; do, thirds, 1/8589934592c; do, state, extras, 1/8589934592c; do, thirds, 1/17179869184c; do, state, extras, 1/17179869184c; do, thirds, 1/34359738368c; do, state, extras, 1/34359738368c; do, thirds, 1/68719476736c; do, state, extras, 1/68719476736c; do, thirds, 1/1374389534